Important information:

- The discussions of half the book are just a minimum and merely mean that you should have read to at least half of the book by that time. You are welcome to read further if you wish.
- We will also be constructing a lending library in Mrs. Girdwood's room and book donations would be appreciated (And not just Me and Earl and the Dying Girl). Please help with this project with any ideas you might have for it.
- Book club will also be a place to share new books that people have read so if you have a book you think others would like you are welcome to share it at meetings.
- Also recruit members for book club in your classes who seem interested in the book club and would be active, participating members.
